AREA SALES MANAGER

LEVEL MEASUREMENT & INSTRUMENTATION EQUIPMENT | REMOTE / NORTH UK REGION

Are you an experienced Area Sales Manager? Are you looking to join a UK subsidiary of a German manufacturer of market-leading instrumentation and measurement equipment?

You don't need direct experience in instrumentation – full product training will be provided. Ideally, you'll have experience in selling technical products, such as mechanical or electrical components, but this isn't a must. What matters most is a proactive, self-driven sales approach; a willingness to learn and a strong customer focus.

WHY JOIN US?

- We are a globally recognised brand and one of the market leaders within the instrumentation and measurement industry as a designer and manufacturer of our own equipment.
- Fully autonomous role covering the northern region of the UK – we can be flexible on your location as you would be remote working/working from home
- A varied role focusing on new business, growing key accounts, developing customer relationships, and providing excellent service

WHAT WE OFFER

- A dynamic work environment within a globally active, owner-managed company
- Comprehensive onboarding and support from a friendly and experienced back office team
- A strong product portfolio “Made in Germany” that delivers real added value
- Flat hierarchies, short decision-making paths, and room for your ideas
- A long-term perspective and opportunities to grow with us
